

Hougen Heads First Local of Farmers' Union

BIG MEETING URGES CONTINUED ACTION IN ORGANIZING AS UNION

M-S-A Local of the Dairy Farmers' Union elected Reeve Alex Hougen of Sumas as president, J. L. Starr as vice-president and Charles Baines as secretary-treasurer at a largely attended meeting in Whatcom Road Hall on Tuesday night.

NINE LOCALS

Representatives of recently organized Locals in other districts of the Fraser Valley were present from Agassiz, Dewdney, Hatzic, Pitt Meadows and Langley and warmly congratulated Sumas independent shippers on their initiative in launching the Dairy Farmers' Union last month. They declared it was receiving almost 100 per cent. support among independent milk shippers in every district. Nine Locals had been formed since the first meeting in Sumas on October 14, chairman Jay Starr said.

WANT ACTION

The meeting was strongly in favor of following up the rapid organization of Locals throughout the Valley by formal organization of the Union. It was decided that each Local should be asked to name two delegates to an organizing committee which should meet at the earliest possible date and take all necessary steps to legally create the Dairy Farmers' Union. Belief was expressed that it should be patterned as closely as possible on labor organization. Reeve Hougen and J. L. Starr were named delegates from the M-S-A Local. At least two of the other eight organized Locals have anticipated the move and named delegates, it was reported.

Representatives of the Locals present promised to attend a meeting of the Chilliwack Local planned for Friday night.

Will Continue Distribution Of Bacon Gilt

ACCLIMATIZED B. C. SOWS SELECTED UNDER HOG POLICY

Sow distribution under the National bacon hog policy conducted by the Federal Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Provincial Department of Agriculture is still in operation and a prospective purchaser can secure services under this policy at this time, says T. G. Stewart, Dominion Live Stock fieldman, 423 Winch Bldg., Vancouver, who will attend to orders from the Fraser Valley.

SELECT B.C. GILTS

Gilts of good bacon type will be selected, preferably at country points in B.C. wherever possible. Small shipments of 20 head can be made by freight or truck, and provincial and dominion departments will absorb the cost of shipping. The purchaser will be billed for the actual cost of the sows to the department and that cost will depend upon the weight and grade of the sow and the market price of hogs on the day of purchase.

FREE BOAR POLICY

Considerable advantage will be gained by purchasing the sows within the province, wherever possible, for therefore, the animals will not have to undergo climatic changes.

Any one wishing to secure a sow, or more, should notify T. G. Stewart, or G. L. Dandon, district agriculturist, New Westminster. The purchaser must deposit $5 for each sow ordered. One pure bred boar will be supplied by the Dominion department, without cost, with each twenty sows delivered in a group or in a community.

There is now a supply of the Farmers' Hog weighing scales available, the price is $12.30 f.o.b. Vancouver, and can be secured at 423 Winch Bldg., Vancouver, Mr. Stewart.

EGG PRICES

Changes in egg prices were announced Tuesday to conform with current supply and demand. Grade A large eggs were quoted 2c low or a dozen at 37c to the producer while Grade A pullet eggs advanced 2c to 31c.

Leon J. Ladner Will Address Board of Trade

EXPLAIN INFLATION AND SAFEGUARDS AND GIVE TAXATION TIPS

Leon J. Ladner, well known Vancouver lawyer and former M. P., accepted an invitation to address the monthly meeting of Abbotsford & District Board of Trade in Canadian Legion board rooms on Monday, Nov. 17, at 8 p.m. His subject will be Financial and Economic Reasons for Dominion Government Control.

Mr. Ladner's address promises to be interesting to both farmer and businessmen members of the Board of Trade as he proposes to give a brief review of war obligations, their increase, the necessity for increased war taxation, the effect on economic life of the huge government expenditures and the likely course of events if these controls were not put into effect. He will also give an explanation of inflation and its effect on the small merchant and farmer as well as citizens at large and of safeguards which both merchant and farmer can take so that they will not pay more taxes than the law requires.

Other matters of M-S-A interest will come before the meeting according to President H. S. Andrews who anticipates a good attendance.

A. H. Woolley of Matsqui, who recently sold his hardware business in Mission to McLennan, McFeeley & Prior Ltd., has purchased the Nelson field on Riverside road between the Fore and Beat roads.

POPPY DAY MEETS FINE RECEPTION

Poppay Day in the M-S-A Area was the most successful yet, according to Chairman, E. A. Barrett, and indications are that over 2,000 poppies were purchased. All reports are not in and final figures are not available. Poppies were for sale in all parts of the Area, including schools, and were sold by Mrs. T. Andrews, Misses Shirley McFadyen, Joyce Clark, Delores Ross and Allstair Preddy of Abbotsford, and Miss Cairns of Clayburn. Mrs. Andrews made a record by selling over 300 poppies, amounting to about $40.

GOOD PRICES AT AUSTIN DISPERSAL SALE ON MONDAY

A 3-year-old Jersey which freshened Sept. 10 brought the top price of $127 at the dispersal sale held by Sam Austin on his Sumas Prairie farm on Monday afternoon. Another 3-year-old Jersey fresh three days brought $126 while several more of the 30 head ranged above the $100 mark, others in the $90's and the lowest $58.50. Three yearling heifers went for $24 and two for $26 while four older animals brought $31 and one $36. The team of grey mares of about 1600 pounds sold for $300 and the 12-year-old gelding at $99. Hay went for $7.50 and oats at from $1.45 to $1.60 a sack.

Jack Lamont, formerly of the staff of the J. S. Daly Drygoods Department and now serving with Canadian forces Overseas, was heard Sunday speaking to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lamont, his wife and other members of the family in Abbotsford. Recently reported wounded by bomb splinters and thus Abbotsford's first casualty, Jack apparently has recovered and returned to duty.

Matsqui Audience Hears of Nazi Treachery and Blitz on Norway; Women Murdered, Country Ravaged

ESCAPED NORWEGIAN TELLS OF GERMAN OCCUPATION PEOPLE ROBBED, HOMES VIOLATED BUT, HUNGRY AND COLD, PEOPLE RISK LIVES TO SLOW DOWN THE NAZIS

The Lutheran Church in Matsqui was filled to capacity when interested listeners came to hear Conrad Knudsen, member of the Norwegian Parliament, now operating in London, speak in aid of the Norwegian Spitfire Fund.

Mr. J. M. Igeland was chairman and introduced Mr. Fred Hoyme, secretary of the Canadian Norwegian Spitfire Fund in B.C., who in turn introduced Mr. Knudsen. Mr. Hoyme told how Mr. Knudsen, his wife and son had left their home, their business and their country and fled in the dead of the night, finally working their way through the German lines, across the border into Sweden. They had left all their possessions behind, everything they had in the world, that they might get "outside", to fight for their country, for they could do nothing more "inside". Mr. Knudsen travelled with the King of Norway for two days.

COUNTRY RAVAGED

Mr. Knudsen told how he was in Oslo when the Germans came, and in the war in the southern part of Norway when, for sixty-two days, thousands of Norwegians died for their country, women and children were murdered and the country ravaged by war. Sixty thousand German soldiers fought four thousand Norwegians. He was present at the first bombing and met the first English soldiers when they arrived.

When he returned to Oslo in a dirty ammunition truck he found the Nazi Swastika flying from the roof of the Storting (Parliament Buildings) and all other Government buildings up and down the streets. Some of the Nazi soldiers had come to Norway during the First World War as starving unemployed children. They had been taken in by kindly Norwegian families, clothed, fed and educated. They had attended Norwegian churches and been confirmed, had shared in all the privileges of the Norwegian national life and grown up Norwegians.

During the last few years many had returned to Germany—been instructed in Nazi propaganda and returned to Norway as spies. They told the Norwegians that England and France were their enemies and were planning to crush Norway and that their only hope was to let Germany come in and safeguard them.

CANADA-U.S. NEXT!

Mr. Knudsen said, in his very expressive manner, "You know Germany is always safeguarding some nation, she has safeguarded nearly all Europe and is now safeguarding Russia,—and—by and by if we do not do more, she will be safeguarding Canada and the

"I Was There"

Vivid picture of what happens to a people not prepared for German treachery is given by Conrad Knudsen, M.P., who fled for his life from Norway and travelled for months trying to reach the freedom that Canadians still enjoy. Mr. Knudsen's recent address at Matsqui is reproduced below as reported by Mrs. A. E. S. Beaton, correspondent for The News. His message, The News believes, should cause M-S-A citizens to do everything possible to double their regular investment in War Savings and thus help save Canada from the fate of Norway—it can happen here, Mr. Knudsen intimates. He is in the centre of the picture at the left, Norwegian Consul Hercules Worsoe, also known in Matsqui, right, and Asst. Consul Carl Bjorke, left. (Cut Courtesy B. C. E. R. Employees Magazine)

Cruikshank Tackles Howe On Gasoline

VOICES BELIEF THAT OIL CONTROLLER IS A COMPANY MAN

"Rightly or wrongly we in British Columbia think that the oil controller is playing into the hands of the big companies and is operating in their interests," George Cruikshank M.P., of Matsqui (Fraser Valley) flatly observed to Munitions and Supply Minister C. D. Howe during committee debate in the House of Commons on Monday.

"The minister can dispel that idea so far as my riding is concerned," Mr. Cruikshank declared. "If he can show me that the cost of transportation from California and Texas or Oklahoma to British Columbia has increased, and if he can show me that these U. S. companies are not selling to subsidiary companies in Canada, thereby getting the benefit of the 10 per cent. (exchange) as well as the one cent a gallon increase (decreased recently)."

NO ANSWER

Mr. Howe said he could not give that information offhand, but asked his questioner to put his question on the order paper and he would have an answer prepared. Whether it will be answered at this session depends "how complicated the question is."

MILITARY SERVICE

Another B.C. Member, A. W. Neill, had opened the discussion on gasoline during debate on shipbuilding, housing, scrap steel and other war items, when he suggested the government had begun by trusting the public too much on gasoline rationing and was ending by not trusting them enough. Incidentally Mr. Neill declared he was in favor of compulsory service for both men and women for all war service. J. F. Pouliot, Temiscouata, did not believe in the exemptions from military service granted to conscientious objectors, Mennonites and Doukhobors.

GEORGE AND SHIPS

George Cruikshank also took part in the debate on steel vs wood ship construction for war purposes, reminding Mr. Howe of his statement of last February to the effect that British Columbia shipyards were filled to capacity until the end of 1942—yet many orders have been placed since that was said.

Mr. Howe defended his failure to order construction of wooden ships on the contention that the

A Membership of Mercy

There is one symbol known throughout the world and respected by all men. In shape it closely resembles the highest of all symbols but it is by color as well as shape that it is first recognized. Such is the Red Cross.

On the battlefield, at trainwrecks, where flood, fire or famine happen to strike, men, women and children think of ministering angels when they see this sign; they know help is at hand and that the rest of the world is reaching out to alleviate their suffering. And they think of mothers, aye grandmothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts, distant as they may be, knitting, sewing, making the thousands of things that the Red Cross provides to ease pain and aid the wounded, the injured and sick.

It is the privilege of us all just now to renew our membership in the Canadian Society of this work. No other appeal for funds is being made this fall but each branch needs as great, if not greater, membership than during the past year. Our M-S-A Branch is doing a vast work. In the last appeal about 1500 contributions were received and memberships numbered approximately 1000. Memberships are only $1, though more work can be done if more money is given, so it is hoped every one of this thousand and perhaps a hundred or two more, will renew their membership now.

"It suits us perfectly that Canada will be linked to the British Crown. That Crown is, for us, as for all other Canadians, the finest guarantee of liberty and dignity. It is also the guarantee of our right to worship God in French, as is our wish."—Adelard Godbout, Premier of Quebec.

Not Needed Here

We have been saying in various ways for some months now that the sickening attitude of some labor leaders is a menace to the nation, if not to all freedom-loving nations left in the world today. Particularly is this evident in the United States and with such an example of self-interest vs public interest so close to us we should have our own eyes wide open to the danger of something more insidious even than the enemy Fifth Column paralysing Canadian War efforts.

In this connection we utilize the caption and reproduce in part an editorial from The British Columbian, New Westminster:

"Added to the list of importations that Canada can well do without might be organizations such as the C.I.O. which has recently brought about a labor crisis at the mines of the Kirkland Lake area of Ontario.

"For ten years the highest wages paid in any industry in Canada have been received by gold miners. Throughout the depression, according to a recent statement issued on behalf of Kirkland Lake Mines, there has never been a wage cut in the mines, and standards of living in gold mine communities are authoritatively stated to be the highest in Canada.

"Into this scene of contentment and plenty the C.I.O. moved through its International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, headed by two gentlemen from Denver, Colorado. As a result with Canada at war and the government urging peak gold production to increase U.S. exchange, and with 1600 workmen from the community enlisted in the active services, Kirkland Lake has a labor crisis.

"With all Canada's restrictions against letting her own people go out of the country, it seems too bad that she has not a few to prevent such agitators as these residents of Denver, Colorado from crossing the border with the deliberate intention of sabotaging Canada's war effort by curtailing the production of her mines."

Plainly the question of who shot first is no answer to who is to blame for conflict between Nazism and Americanism. The fact is that the United States could not tolerate Nazi control of the Atlantic. And beyond that is the fact that when Hitlerism started on the road of oppression and aggression, it attacked ideals and interests which Americans must defend.—The Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Mass.

The Only Way

(The Comox Argus, Courtenay)

Last weekend the heads of the army at Ottawa invited two hundred men from civilian recruiting committees and newspaper men to be their guests at Victoria to discuss recruiting. High ranking recruiting officials gave lectures as to how they could keep flowing the stream of men needed to reinforce the army. The delegates listened and then demanded that they be heard. Rather reluctantly the request was granted. The answer was unanimous and emphatic—the voluntary principle had served its usefulness and nothing now would serve but compulsory service.

"I am not entirely satisfied with the contribution that the press of the country has made in support of the national wartime agricultural policy. In matters of agriculture, the daily press in particular, is too content to concern itself with the controversial rather than the constructive side."—Dr. G. S. Barton, Dominion Deputy-Minister of Agriculture.

Do You Remember? Fifteen Years Ago In the M.S.A. Area From the A. S. & M. News of November 10, 1926

A. Smythe, an experienced sheepraiser of Ontario, has purchased from A. C. Stewart 50 ewes, with which he intends to start his flock.

Members of the Men's Club tendered a farewell to E. A. Barrett and presented him with a small gift before he left with Mrs. Barrett to spend Christmas holidays in England.

At the Upper Sumas school the grade standings were: Gr. 5, Catherine Porritt, 4A, Marie Tessaro; 4B, Roman Ferraro; 3A, Reta McGarva, and 3B, Mita Forrest.

A Sumas-Abbotsford Agricultural Association has been recently organized and the following officers elected: president, J. A. Frith; vice-president, A. H. Harrop; and secretary, C. Blinch.

Excavations of the new Abbotsford Hotel are now complete, weather conditions greatly hindering this work.

Colin Fraser, recently of the Abbotsford C.P.R. staff, has gone to North Bend Depot.

411 TELEPHONES ON ABBOTSFORD B.C.T. EXCHANGE

Last "statement of development" of the B.C. Telephone Company shows the number of telephones on the Abbotsford exchange as 411, an increase of two since the previous report and of 16 since January 1 this year. Aldergrove exchange remains at 78 phones about one-third of which serve a portion of western Matsqui while Mission has gained 19 phones since January 1st and now has 354 telephones about 20 of which are in north Matsqui.

BLOOD DONORS

The Editor, A.S.M. News.

DEAR SIR:—

Not all of us are financially able to respond to the War Savings Campaign. However there is another appeal, which is equally vital to the war effort, and to which everyone can, and I am sure, will respond very readily. I refer to the appeal for blood donors, to provide the "red life line" for our armed forces, against the day when they will be engaged in mortal combat with the enemy of human dignity and freedom. This "red life line" however needs organizing. Is anything being done in this area to organize blood donors? Recognising the fact that most of us live miles from the centre of Abbotsford and Matsqui, it should be made possible for prospective donors to present themselves at say, their local school or community hall.

We have a health organization covering the A.S.M. Area under Dr. Taylor. It occurs to me that he and his organization is the logical instrument to facilitate the organization of blood donors. I am sure volunteer committees could readily be formed in each community to assist in getting people to present themselves as prospective blood donors. I myself will gladly co-operate in this task. Are there any others? E. H. Baker, Bradner.

P.S.H.S. NOTES

VISITORS THURSDAY

This is Education Week. On Thursday afternoon, November 13, parents and the public in general are cordially invited to visit our High School and see the classes in session.

The last period, from 2:30 to 3:10, is of special interest. That time is set aside for the students activity period when the pupils assemble to work in their various clubs. Guides will be provided to insure that nothing of interest will be overlooked.

ASSEMBLY

On Monday afternoon, November 10, a patriotic assembly was held in the auditorium. Mr. Topper's speech on "Armistice Day" greatly impressed those who heard it. The assembly closed with "God Save The King".

POPPY DAY

Thursday, November 6, was observed as Poppy Day in our school and $8 was realized from the contributions of the pupils. Each pupil received a Poppy.

DAWLEY ACQUITTED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Clifford E. Dawley, Vancouver shipyard worker, was found not guilty of a charge of robbery with violence in County Court at New Westminster, Thursday.

Dawley was accused of holding up three Chinese on Sumas Prairie Sept. 12 and stealing various sums amounting to $300 from Wong Ling, Lim Shue and Tong Way.

Taken from a different angle than any view previously displayed, a picture of Abbotsford as it looked about 1910 is exhibited this week in The News window. It has been given to The News by Magistrate J. W. Winson of Sumas and is tentatively dated 1910. It overlooks the east half of the town from advantage point south of the old G.N.R. rightofway, probably from just east of Montvue avenue on McKenzie road. It is possible someone may be able to identify the woman in the foreground of the picture and thus give an exact date to the picture. She is accompanied by a little girl and is wheeling a baby buggy. A large white plume decorates her wide-brimmed black hat.

MAY RAISE PENSIONS AND ALLOWANCES

Finance Minister J. L. Halsey told the House of Commons Thursday night the government has under consideration a proposal to increase the allowances granted to pensioners and to dependents of members of the armed forces.

Matsqui Hears Knudsen

he sent up a peace pact—what is one or more peace pact to Hitler? Nothing—not worth the paper it is on.

"The Nazi had the press and radio controlled, and fooled some people, Abe Lincoln once said. "You can fool all of the people some of the time, some of the people all of the time, but not all of the people all of the time" and that was before there was a minister of propaganda.

You in Canada know war by reading we in Norway, by blitzkrieg and Hitler. Their so-called new order has reached the naked bodies of Norwegians, we know what it means to join Hitler's Lebensstrom. Norway was neutral, but they were suspicious of the Nazis, they knew what it meant to their form of democracy and Hitler knew it.

ADMIRE BRITISH

"Our sympathy was with Britain for we knew that as a small country we had nothing to fear from her and we admired the British courage and honesty. As to Russia we were suspicious, not because we feared attack from her, but we knew she could never be a spiritual or democratic ally. We also knew the friendship between Russia and Germany could not last, as time has proved.

"As for National Socialism in Germany, we knew it so well", declared Mr. Knudsen, "we did not want it inside our borders. Mr. Vidhun Quizling had time and time again tried to influence our people to his German Nazi-Hitler ideas. But he always failed. In his national election he polled 1.85% of votes, 1.85% from labor organizations.

"Hitler has stated in Mein Kampf, which Norwegians have read, that by skillful propaganda, people can be made to believe that Heaven is Hell, and visa versa. Oh, yes, our people had read his book, but no one would ever make us believe that Hell was anything but Hell, and Nazism was looked upon as Hell in our country.

TURNING POINT

"Although unprepared for war, we fought longer than any other European country except Britain against Hitler, before Russia. It is quite clear Hitler miscalculated Norway, when he thought we would quit and capitulate and allow our country to be split like France. Our premier has said the invasion of Norway was the turning point of the war for it woke up the laboring classes of Britain from a long and complacent sleep.

"Hitler thought by his skillful propaganda he could win the Norwegians over as members of his "new order". He even tried to fool the Storting or Government that they were in power and should sanction the new order—in truth a dictatorship. He promised Heaven in Norway with free radio and press and all privileges. He sent Mr. Terborim as his Reich Commissioner in Norway. His shameful plan was to make us (the Government) responsible for the new policy; for the new order that was to be in Norway, and thereby make a split in our resistance. It was tempting to obey German demands and accept their false promises. They would recognize our independence in civic affairs, press, radio—so they said.

GERMAN THREATS

"On the other hand, the members of the Storting were faced by the German threat to draft all Norwegians of military age and send as prisoners to Germany and they were threatened with hell if they resisted. What could we do? Some thought, by a compromise they could make use of the last chance to save some measure of self-government in Norway during the occupation. They cherished the hope that by submitting, they might save parts of their independence. I saw it as a new treachery and fought every demand. I felt I knew the Nazis—they are just like the devil, asking for one finger and then taking not only one whole hand but both hands. We resisted and Norway's honor was saved. So was her fighting spirit. If we at that moment had failed, Norway would have shared the tragedy of France with the whole nation divided and the whole nation up against a wall.

"A puppet government with Quizling at the head was set up by Terborim who forbade any activities of the Royal house, the Government or any political parties, thus leaving Quizling the sole head.

LABOR LEADERS SHOT

"The Government and people of Norway knew they had no one but themselves on whom to rely. I tried to persuade the Leaders of Unions to dissolve all organizations, so that the Nazis could not use them. The leaders thought by compromise they could save some independence. They refused to call a general strike and smash their unions. They thought they could save them just as Congress thinks they can save their country. Now they know better. Today they are prisoners in concentration camps or in jail for life. Some were shot in cold blood. It does not pay to compromise with the Nazis.

"The night the radio announced that the Reich Commissioner had set up the Quizling Government with all Quizling members and that all other activities in the state were forbidden, it was like a bomb shell—Norway was at first stunned, then angry and rose in rage. Outside every building the Gestapo was in full charge. Leaders, professors, ministers were arrested and sentenced to from one year to life imprisonment.

SLOW DOWN NAZIS

"Norway is not lying down under the tyrant—electric cables leading to German anti-aircraft batteries and searchlights are continually being cut, signs removed or reversed to disorganize military transport and slow down Nazi work, holes are drilled in the bottoms of boats, so they will sink when loaded, railways are being wrecked, factories burned or blown up. Everything possible is being done to sabotage German equipment in Norway.

"The people of Norway have been systematically robbed of valuables, food, and their homes violated for Nazi accommodation. They are allowed but one cup of coffee a month and mighty thin coffee at that. They are hungry and cold and cannot help themselves. They are risking their lives to help us by slowing down the Nazis.

MUST HELP THEM

"We must help them in every way we can, for it is us—on the outside who can help. The Norwegian men in the air force have pledged a percentage of their pay every month for the duration for this effort, some giving 50% of their pay each month.

"To be a Norwegian living beyond the frontiers of the homeland therefore imposes a great responsibility—either he works as a civilian or in the armed forces, or he contributes to the economic upkeep of those actively engaged in the efforts to restore our country. If Hitler wins this war, there will never again be an independent Norway.

URGENT APPEAL

After this very remarkable speech, in so far as it was only the third time Mr. Knudsen had spoken in English, Mr. Fred Hoyme spoke again. He wished to say he had received a telegram from Toronto urgently asking him to immediately turn in any funds he had. He stressed the urgency of aid now. The meeting closed with "God Save The King".

The Lutheran Ladies Aid then served refreshments in the Church Parlour after which Mr. Knudsen spoke in Norwegian.

SKATING, HOCKEY SEASON OPENS AT ROYAL CITY ARENA

With the conclusion of summer activities, a beautiful ice sheet has been formed and New Westminster's big skating arena is now open for the winter. Of particular interest to Fraser Valley skaters are the evening periods for open skating, and the outstanding weekly hockey games.

Adult skating sessions are scheduled every week on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and a special session Saturday night. Children from Valley homes may enjoy the Saturday sessions at 10 a.m. or at 3 p.m. Both these sessions are offered at a nominal admission. Good music is provided for all skating periods, and facilities for skate sharpening, and for provision of shoes and skates for those wishing them are also available.

Fast, hard, exciting hockey will be on view every Tuesday. The Canadian Prairies—along with the world's best wheat—also produce the world's best hockey players with large numbers of these making an annual trek across the line to the big time hockey leagues. This year the Coast League will benefit amazingly by virtue of the draft board ruling which precludes the usual exodus to the States. The cream of the 1941 crop has been drawn to the Coast, with the result that New Westminster, Vancouver, Nanaimo and Victoria have been able to choose from this flood of talent. Each of the four Clubs has signed the fastest hockey players ever seen in Coast Amateur hockey. Tuesday night has been assigned to New Westminster Arena, the three other teams in succession visiting Royal City.

Do you know that incorrect gauge wire actually represents a substantial loss in lighting and power efficiency and increases the cost of operation? Wire too small to carry the necessary load for your equipment increases the Kilowatt hours needed to do the job and ups your costs. Brooders, incubators, water heaters, in fact all heating and lighting equipment cannot operate at maximum efficiency without correct wiring. Adequate gauge, proper insulation, correct switches, the most practical placement of outlets, all this advice and a scale diagram of arrangements best suited to your farm is a B.C. F.V.M.P.A. PAYS 50c FOR MILK

Directors of the F.V.M.P.A., at their month-end meeting, boosted the price of butterfat f.o.b. Vancouver two cents from 48 cents a pound butterfat. The new price is based on 44 cents a pound butterfat and 24 cents a pound per 100 pounds skim. The rise is the fourth successive increase in four months and the highest rate to F.V.M.P.A. members in 10 years.

EGGS 48c ON VALLEY MARKET

A price of 48c a dozen for eggs was asked and obtained on the retail stalls of the Fraser Valley Market for specials; 46c for grade A large; 40c for medium eggs and 36c for pullets. The increase followed the price jump by the Vancouver wholesalers earlier in the week.

Onions were quoted at $2.50 a sack while a price of 2 1/4 cents was asked from people buying them by the pound.

C.V.M.P.A. RAISES PRICE MILK, CREAM

Comox Valley Milk Producers' Association announces a rise in price of milk and cream owing to the high cost of labor, feed, dairy supplies and gasoline. Effective this week the new scale announced is: quarts 14c, pints 8c; 1 gallon and up daily, 45c; wholesale bulk milk 40c gallon; retail cream, quarters 13c, halves 25c, pints 45c, quarts 80c; wholesale cream, quarts 80c.

OLD MILK CANS ARE CALLED UP FOR WAR SERVICE

The Canadian Dairy Industry has commenced a drive to collect from producers throughout the Dominion milk and cream cans which have been discarded for want of repairing or retinning. Steel is vital to Canada's war needs and even now manufacturers of milk and cream cans are experiencing difficulty in securing their requirements. Milk producers are urged to bring their discarded cans to the creamery or cheese factory with which they deal. Arrangements will be made to have the cans repaired or retinned.

ORGANIZED MARKETING OF CHRISTMAS TREES WOULD AID FARMERS

For many years Canada has been the principal source of supply of Christmas trees to the United States, but, owing to the want of regulation and co-operation on the part of growers, the larger share of the profits have not gone to the growers, while farmers and other woodland owners, if they have not suffered actual loss, have received such low prices that there has been little or no return for their enterprise and labour, according to the Dominion Forest Service, Ottawa. Further, in some years the market has been glutted, and in other years understocked.

There is also another angle to the Christmas tree trade. Adequate legal safeguards are required for its protection in eliminating trespass and stealing which is disturbingly general in this motor age.

The Dominion Forest Service has issued an appeal for co-operative marketing under grading rules as the basic need of the Christmas tree industry in Canada.

There is no Dominion act providing for the incorporation of co-operative associations.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING OF DAIRY CATTLE IS STUDIED BY FARMERS

Recently a tour was held in Skagit County for Whatcom County farmers who are interested in artificial breeding of dairy cattle. Those who made the trip were L. B. Massey, Hubert Morrell, S. H. Barnard, Allan Odell, Henry Olson, Mr. Tipples and son, Guy C. Anderson and Gale G. Gurtle.

The tour was conducted by Vey Valentine, county agent of Skagit County, who showed the group the sires used in the association as well as two herds where the artificial breeding is used.

MILK ZONING

A system of milk zoning has been established in New Zealand to conserve gasoline and reduce distributing costs. Consumers must buy milk from the official vendor assigned to the district, or carry the milk from a licensed retailer. Milk prices have thus been reduced and gasoline.

PREPARE FARM BUILDINGS NOW FOR WINTER USE

With winter approaching now is the time for the pre-winter clean-up of all farm buildings and animal sheds. These should be put into a good sanitary condition for the winter. It is a good practice to spray the inside of such buildings with a disinfectant lime wash which will destroy any mites, lice and other parasites that may be in the crevices and woodwork. Whitewash to which has been added 5 per cent carbolic acid or 2 per cent cresol makes a good disinfectant wash and will destroy many parasites. Poultry houses particularly should be very thoroughly cleaned and sprayed. Information on the control of rats and mice can be obtained by writing to Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, for Special Pamphlet No. 33, War Time Production series.

TIMELY TIPS

Bradner Gardener

Soon after fall of leaves, pruning may be started of Apricot, Peach, Nectarine, Vines, Plum, Cherries, Pear, apple, Gooseberries, Currants. When the trees are pruned, give them a good spraying and a good coat of lime at the roots.

Cauliflower coming into head should have a couple of leaves broken over the head to prevent damage by frost.

Continue earthing up Celery. Shallots may be planted in a warm place.

Water Cress may also be planted now for spring use.

This is a good time for moving Apple, Pear Plum and Cherry trees.

BRITISH BACON ORDER DEMANDS BEST STOCK

To provide the quantity of bacon required by Britain more sows will be bred this fall. It should be the aim and desire of every hog producer to contribute to the good reputation of Canadian bacon, states the Agricultural Supplies Board. Good bacon cannot be produced by the use of inferior breeding stock. Additions and replacements should be made with gilts of the highest quality obtainable. Gilts should be selected from sows of known performance, urges the Board.

STABILIZATION OF PRICES AND WAGES

Your Country asks your loyal support of this Wartime Measure

TWO NEW CONTROLS have now become essential in Canada's wartime design for living. These are:

(1) Control of Prices

Commencing November 17, 1941, there may be no increase in the prices of goods and services generally unless absolutely necessary and authorized by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

(2) Control of Wages

No employer, with certain limited exceptions, may increase the basic wage rates paid to his employees unless authorized by a Board on which the Government, employers and employees are represented. But after February 15, 1942, every employer with the same exceptions, will be obliged to pay a cost of living bonus and to adjust this bonus every three months.

Action Necessary to Stop Inflation

This Government action has been taken to prevent the inflation we knew in the last war, and its subsequent depression, unemployment and suffering.

Every housewife knows that prices are rising, and rising prices, unless controlled, will make it more costly and difficult to finance the war. Rising prices, unchecked, will spread confusion in industry and trade; will hinder production and proper distribution of supplies; will make the cost of living rise more rapidly than wages and salaries; will lessen the value of savings; will result in hardship for almost everyone, and especially those with small incomes. And the result of uncontrolled inflation, after the war, when prices drop, will again be depression and unemployment. Prices cannot be controlled without control of wages. Excess profits are, and will continue to be, under rigid control.

Coverage of Wages Stabilization Order

The Order is applicable to the following employers:

- 1—Every employer normally subject to the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act.
- 2—Every employer engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war, or war supplies, or the construction of defence projects.

Whole-Hearted Support Required

Your Government knows that this policy, as it affects labour, industry, commerce, and agriculture, demands a degree of restriction to which Canadians are not accustomed, and is directly a wartime measure. It will demand self-discipline and self-control. It will need the whole-hearted support of everyone who has the well-being of his fellow citizens at heart. But by loyal co-operation, Canadians can have much more assurance that the fears, sense of insecurity, the suffering and profiteering which inflation always brings, will neither interfere now in the winning of this war, nor in the recovery and reconstruction of Canada and the Canadian way of living after the war is over.

WAGING WAR IN AFRICA

In Abyssinia South African military forces were advancing when they saw large clouds of dust rising 15 miles away. Thinking it was the Italians, they sent out patrols to investigate and, if necessary, blast the enemy. Patrols found a man with a pipe in his mouth casually driving a huge road scraper. On being asked what he was doing, he replied in a broad Orange Free State accent: "Well, you see, man, I was sent out here to make a road, and here I am". —only 15 miles ahead of the main advancing army.

Accident, Shock Claims Life of J. Caulderwood

Tragic sequel to a minor traffic accident, William J. Caulderwood, 52, Matsqui poultryman, died of shock about 6 p.m. on Thursday, about half an hour after the accident.

Accompanied by his son Jack, who is home on leave from the RCAF, Mr. Caulderwood was involved in a slight accident with a car driven by A. E. Tracey at the junction of the Highway and Gladwin road. No one was hurt and there was but slight damage to the cars. When Mr. Caulderwood got out of his car, however, he complained of not feeling well and a passing motorist, Walter Harvey, driver for Andrew's Grocery, brought him into Abbotsford and called Dr. H. E. Cannon, but the stricken man died almost as aid reached him.

On Friday a coroner's inquest was held by Dr. E. J. Eachett and the jury rendered a verdict that death was due to shock. Jury members were T. Irvine, R. Des-Mazes, J. Edwards, R. Akins, J. Olson and R. Call.

Funeral services were conducted in Henderson's Funeral Home on Monday afternoon by Rev. A. C. Cameron of Abbotsford and Rev. Robert Moses of Grandview United Church in Vancouver. Pallbearers were H. Berry, W. Berry, F. Marshall, A. Nelson, H. Day and W. Mitchell. The remains were forwarded to Vancouver for cremation.

Born in Yorkshire, England, Mr. Caulderwood came to Canada in 1904. At the outbreak of the World War he joined the 18th Battery C.F.A. and served as a sergeant in France. In 1919 he returned to reside in Regina, Sask., where he was a member of the Canadian Legion and of the No. 11 Northwest Mounted Police Mason's Lodge. In Regina he worked for the light and power department where he received a serious injury which left him semi-invalided. Since coming to the Abbotsford district and engaging in the poultry breeding business, he has built up a fine flock of pedigreed Barred Rocks on his farm on the Gladwin road. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Jack in the RCAF, William, at home, one daughter, Joan, attending Philip Sheffield High School, and a sister in Chilliwack, Mrs. Arthur Perley.

Canada at War

(This is the fifth of a series of five articles written by Bruce M. Pearce, editor of the Simcoe Reformer, for member papers of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, in connection with the recent tour of Eastern Canada military camps, munitions plants, R.C.A.F. Schools and naval yards made by a group of prominent weekly, daily and trade newspaper editors and publishers.)

"THE NAVY"

By B. M. P.

As a fitting climax to the Canadian editors' tour, a day with the Royal Canadian Navy at Halifax had been arranged. To anyone who has visited Halifax in peace-time, the transformation to its predominant war-time role as a key port on the Atlantic coast comes almost as a shock. The streets of Halifax are thronged with officers and ratings of the R.C.N., the harbour is lined with ships being readied for convoy, new buildings to accommodate the Navy's needs are going up on all sides, and the dockyard is a veritable beehive of activity as thousands of navy men are schooled for service on the seas.

Arriving at Halifax early in the morning, the editors were shown through King's College, the Officers' training establishment, the Signalling School and the Admiralty House Grounds. Proceeding to His Majesty's Canadian Dockyard, our party saw all phases of the technical training of the Navy, including the gunnery school, ordinance artificers' shop, machine shops, anti-aircraft school and other departments of instruction. It is here that the officers and ratings receive their final training in gunnery, navigation, wireless telegraphy, signaling and able seamanship to fit them for their tasks. Stokers are taught their engine room duties and there are schools for cooks, stewards and sickbay attendants. In one building the gunners were being trained on large naval guns. It was an unbelievable bedlam as the youngsters went through their paces, shouting and repeating orders and moving with speed and precision to their respective stations. Not all of these lads are Maritimers, in fact a great many are from the prairies and singularly enough they take to the water like ducks.

YOUTH PREDOMINATES

Youth clearly has the call in the Canadian Navy. We met a 27-year-old officer who is commander of a destroyer and another of about the same age in charge of a brand new Canadian corvette. Another lad of twenty-one, an officer on a destroyer, had already come unscathed through the horrors of Dunkirk, where he was in command of a yacht which made four round trips in taking off British soldiers. We visited the stores where depth charges and big naval torpedoes are housed. We were introduced to Commodore Jones, Officer Commanding the Atlantic Coast, and his staff, and were told the story of how convoys are assembled and shepherded across the Atlantic. It can be no secret that Halifax has a vital role in conveying merchant ships of Allied nations to beleaguered Britain and that the Royal Canadian Navy is playing a heroic part in this all-important task, having already safely escorted thousands of ships and millions of tons of cargo to their destinations in the Mother Country.

ABOARD A DESTROYER

We had a real opportunity to view the busy harbour when two of the now famous fifty American destroyers were placed at our disposal for a tour of the harbour and a twenty-five mile run onto the broad Atlantic. Fortunately for the editors it was a calm day. During the run depth charges were dropped and a smoke screen thrown out to add a realistic touch to the trip. The depth charges, rolled from the stern of the boat, threw a dense cloud of spray high into the air and jarred the destroyer with terrific force. It is easy to see how they can play havoc with enemy submarines. The Captain of the destroyer on which we made the harbour trip was a sturdy "sea-dog," whose alert and ruddy countenance clearly reflected the spirit of the Navy. We learned that he served aboard the H.M. C.S. Fraser, the Canadian destroyer which went down in the English channel with the loss of a number of lives. The Captain, his officers and ratings were most courteous to the editors and we derived a new insight into the valuable work performed by the heavily-armed destroyers both in convoy and patrol work. Overhead passed big flying boats which carry out a long-distance patrol far out to sea, while glimpses could be obtained of the heavy coastal fortifications of the harbour.

THE CORVETTE

On the outgoing trip we passed several mine-sweepers and corvettes inward bound from patrol duty. Earlier at a Quebec dockyard we had viewed similar ships in course of building. We saw some corvettes on the stocks with hundreds of men hammering and rivetting, while another was ready for delivery. Contrary to popular conception, the corvette is not a small vessel, but rivals the destroyer in size, and armament although we understand that some corvettes of smaller size have been built at Ontario ports. Each of the larger corvettes is heavily armed. They are playing a significant role in the Battle of the Atlantic. One shipyard alone has 1,800 men at work on corvettes and minesweepers and the counterpart will be found in many a Canadian shipyard. The corvette is not as graceful a ship as the destroyer but it is sturdy and impressive in appearance. Expansion of the Royal Canadian Navy as a whole in the last two years forms one of the epics of this war, embracing an increase from 13 to 250 ships and in personnel from 1,300 to 23,000 men and the number is increasing every day. The Navy's popularity with young manhood is proven by the steady stream of recruits pouring into Halifax and other naval training centres. Canada's Navy already has a proud record in this war. It will be enhanced as time marches on.

WOMEN LEND A HAND

Just a word regarding the problem encountered by Halifax in meeting the needs of the thousands of naval ratings who are training for service there or who come ashore on leave. The women of Halifax, ably assisted in a financial way by various auxiliary services including the Navy League of Canada, are responding to the call for canteens and wholesome recreation for the men. We visited three or four such buildings and found that the sailors were making liberal use of the conveniences provided for them. One small canteen alone had served as many as 25,000 meals in a month. Most of the leaders in this work are wives of naval officers who employ all their spare time in the arduous duties of fitting out and supervising canteens and restrooms. Halifax churches likewise are doing their bit to brighten the off-duty hours of the lads who man Canada's ships. One of the most striking proofs of expansion is the erection of two new naval hospitals adjoining the Halifax waterfront, which are greatly needed to supplement existing accommodation.

A happy culmination of the editor's visit to Halifax was the banquet tendered to our party by Commodore Jones and his staff of distinguished officers and ship captains. Our spokesmen had a chance to express appreciation of their gracious hospitality and to thank particularly Commander J. P. Connolly M.C., V.D., Royal Naval Provost Marshal, who accompanied us on the tour. It was an occasion, too, to become acquainted with the sterling worth of Canada's men "who go down to the sea in ships."

CONCLUSION

In concluding this series of articles, we would like on behalf of Canadian weekly newspapers to express to the Department of National Defence and to the officers of the General Staff, the R.C.A.F. and the Navy, as well as to the Directors of Public Information and Public Relations and their staffs, who took valuable time from their official duties at Ottawa to accompany us on the entire trip, our sincere appreciation for a memorable journey. We would also give honorable mention

GREAT NEED FOR COMPLETION OF FUND SUBSCRIPTIONS

At the time of the Canadian War Services Campaign held last spring, approximately 200,000 Canadians had enlisted in the Services. Today nearly 300,000 have enlisted, and thousands have been transferred overseas during the summer months.

Owing to the large number of those now in uniform, the calls for the activities of the above organizations are steadily increasing. Reports received from all quarters stress the fact that the services rendered by them are in-late, whether in the larger centres and isolated districts of the Dominion or Overseas. Moving picture shows, sports equipment, radios, libraries, writing and rest rooms, shower baths, tea-wagons, canteens and hostels for women, are only a few of the services which our dollars are helping to provide. They are keeping men healthy and happy in body and mind, by brightening their hours of recreation and maintaining a moral which is so essential in these critical times.

A special appeal is now made to those contributors who may not have completed their pledges, to do so as soon as possible. By their co-operation, not only will administration expenses be reduced to the minimum, but tremendous encouragement will be given to those who are carrying on this splendid work. To all contributors, the Provincial Advisory Committee is very grateful. For convenience of those locally who have a balance to pay on their subscription to the fund they may remit to Mr. Geo. F. Pratt, secretary, at the Abbotsford municipal office.

to the Canadian National Railways. It is certain that the tour served the useful purpose of giving the editors a clear conception of what Canada is doing in this war and thus enabling them to pass on information to their readers. If we have painted too rosy a picture of the Dominion's war program it is not intentional. We simply recorded what we saw. There is ample time and place for criticism, such as the Federal Ministers have invited. No doubt the newspapers will do their duty in this regard, as they have in the past. These articles have merely aimed at portraying the extent of Canada's achievements in the army, the war industry, the R.C.A.F. and the Navy. That defects, bottlenecks and extravagance still exist, there can be no doubt. The program is by no means perfect. It has grown so rapidly that no amount of supervision could coordinate and keep in hand the entire machine. We know that it has cost a colossal sum of money and that taxpayers are being asked to pay to the limit. But in developing the tools of war to defeat Hitler, monetary considerations must remain secondary.

We hold no brief for Canada's political government, but of one thing we can be sure, the leaders of Canada's military, air and naval forces, and the entrepreneurs of our war industries are the right men in the right place. They are keen, alert and on top of their jobs. If Canadian civilians will devote one fraction of the concentration and enthusiasm of these men to the war program, Canada's part in the Empire fight for survival will surely be a worthy one.

Teachers Seek $75 Monthly As Wage Minimum

The 31st annual convention of the Fraser Valley Council of B. C. Teachers' Federation was held on Friday at Cloverdale with an attendance of 450. Newly-elected officers are: H. L. Buckley, Richmond, president; D. H. Lowther, Chilliwack, vice-president; and James Goldie, secretary-treasurer.

The main business of the meeting concerned the raising of the salaries of rural teachers. Harry Charlesworth, secretary of the federation, spoke on the question, and the resolutions were forwarded from local associations asking that the provincial government make a special grant to increase the minimum salary of rural teachers from $780 to $900 annually. A request was also forwarded asking for the institution of some equivalent to the cost of living bonus.

The council went on record as favoring a progressive re-adjustment of educational financing so that a greater part of the load will be borne by the provincial government and less by local taxpayers.

MISSION RECEIVES DISTRICT SHIELD AT ANNUAL BANQUET

At the annual banquet of the Mission & District Agricultural Association in the Agricultural Hall, Mission, Mission was presented with the District Shield, held by Matsqui for the past two years emblematic of the best agricultural and farming district in the Fraser Valley. Over 200 members and friends were present to enjoy the excellent banquet and to see the many cups presented to the various winners at the recent Fall Fair.

THIRD IN FAMILY

Jimmy Grant, junior clerk in the B.C.E.R. office and salesroom in Abbotsford leaves tonight for the East, having been accepted by the RCAF. His father, Sergt. G. Grant, in the shoe business here prior to the war, and his eldest brother, Signalmen George Grant, are already overseas.

cost per ton was as great or greater than steel ships, operating costs were higher and after-war use was doubtful. He had no orders, anyhow, he said, from the merchant marine or shipping board for wooden ships. This last statement brought Mr. Cruickshank into the debate again.

POINTED QUESTIONS

Mr. Cruickshank: Who is the Canadian shipping board?

Mr. Howe: The Canadian shipping board is a board that operates under the department of trade and commerce.

Mr. Cruickshank: Under the instructions of the government?

Mr. Howe: Yes.

Mr. Cruickshank: Well, then, we can tell them to buy them. Am I to understand—if I may ask a question in connection with this matter of the wooden ships—that the urgency of the situation is surmounted by the dollars and cents point of view? Is that correct?

Mr. Howe: No, I would not say that.

Mr. Cruickshank: I understood the minister just now to say that.

"SECOND CLASS" SHIPS
Mr. Howe: We have tried in our war manufacturing to turn out a good article, and I think we have succeeded very well. If we build a ship, we build a ship which is a good ship, compared with any on the ocean. If we build a tank, it is a good tank. If we build a gun, it is a good gun, equal to any. I think that when you turn out a wooden ship in this day and generation, you are turning out a second-class article and one which hardly justifies the man-hours and the material which you put into it.

Total War Effort in Canada, as advocated by the Canadian Legion, will be the topic before the M-S-A Branch meeting Thursday night, President Harry Day states.

ENLARGE POSTAL FACILITIES FOR CHRISTMAS RUSH

Postmaster A. E. Barrett is arranging to increase the facilities of the Post Office in order to better cope with the approaching Christmas rush. A new Money Order wicket is proposed and extra space for the Rural Route mail couriers is to be provided by making an entrance into the rear of the Lawrence Men's Wear Store next door.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced of Margaret Jenn, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCulloch of Clayburn, to Mr. Eino Jarvis of New Westminster. The wedding will take place in the near future.

WHATCOM FARMERS SEE OPPORTUNITY IN FIBRE FLAX

No time is being lost by Whatcom County farmers and government agricultural officials in following up a suggestion that present conditions warrant development of a fibre flax industry in the neighboring U.S. district. Several meetings have been held by the farmers and delegates have gone to Oregon and inspected the industry there and on Friday, L. N. Freimann, County Extension Agent, visited Tony Tessaro of Abbotsford who grew 38 acres of fibre flax on Sumas reclaimed land last summer. The Whatcom farmers propose to grow 1000 acres and steps are being taken to secure processing plants.

REVISION OF VOTERS' LISTS

Courts of Revision of the Voters' Lists of Matsqui, Sumas and Abbotsford, will be held in the respective municipal halls on Saturday, Nov. 15, at 10 a.m. These sessions herald the approaching municipal elections but with the exception of a statement to The News on Saturday by Ernest Lowe, 1055 Townline road, that he would be a candidate in Ward One, Matsqui, there have, as yet, been no other indications of election interest.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Red Cross branches throughout the province are having membership drives. Some are concentrating on "Membership Weeks" others are extending their drives until December 15, the date provincial Red Cross Headquarters has named as the "deadline." Heretofore annual membership fees have been included in contributions to the national campaign for funds. This year the Red Cross is not having one. Hence memberships have lapsed. However, there still exists in various towns and cities in B.C., where the Red Cross and local welfare associations had joint appeals last year, a misapprehension that this plan is still in force. This is not so. Complying with a recent request of the federal government, the Red Cross will combine with other national organizations in a national financial appeal in the spring of 1942.

VOLUNTEER 300 SPLINTS

Junior Red Cross members of Victoria High School have volunteered to make 300 arm splints to meet the request of the Department of National Defence, also to raise the $50 to buy the materials. The splints will be made under the supervision of manual training instructors.

ODDFELLOWS AID

Members of the I.O.O.F. United War Effort committee called at the provincial Red Cross headquarters recently to present a cheque for $3,100 to buy a mobile canteen. On being informed by Commissioner F. W. Tuffrey that there was no need for mobile canteens at the moment, but an urgent need for utilicon vans (small ambulances), the committee agreed to convert the money for the purchase of two of these at $1,500 each for the British Red Cross, and to give the remaining $100 to the national blanket fund. The I.O.O.F. in this province has been a strong supporter of the Red Cross. Last year they gave two ambulances at a cost of $1,750 each and $1,500 for a bed unit in the Canadian Red Cross Unit at Taplow, England.
